

Trillium Mutual Insurance Company Recognized at the 2016 ICT Awards

Trillium Mutual is proud to share that the technology they have recently deployed to their broker partners has been recognized at the Insurance Canada Technology Awards. Trillium Mutual was named the 2nd Runner Up at the Awards Banquet at the Metro Convention Centre in Toronto on Monday February 29, 2016.

The ICT Awards celebrate the use of technology by insurance companies, brokers and suppliers to improve the business of Property & Casualty insurance in Canada. Nominations recognize many different uses of technology to support the insurance business. The primary criterion for all awards is the positive impact that a specific technology or application of technology has had on business. Impacts are judged relative to the investment made.

In 2015, Trillium implemented new technology allowing their Broker Partners to electronically submit new farm and residential business directly to Trillium to have new policies issued seamlessly. Trillium partnered with Hubio to provide this technology solution. The competition included large and small insurance providers from across Canada, all of whom shared great and innovative ideas.

With over 135 years of experience in the agricultural insurance industry, Trillium Mutual Insurance is a progressive company that provides professional solutions and relationships built on trust. Trillium's vision is "To be the leading mutual insurer protecting and enhancing farm and community lifestyles." Trillium prides itself on having dedicated specialists who are knowledgeable, client-focused and who understand the farm business intimately.
